“The Plan of the Master Weaver”

My life is but a weaving, Between the Lord and me,
I may not choose the colors, He knows what they should be;
For He can do the pattern, Upon the upper side
While I can see it only, On this, the underside.
Sometimes He weaveth sorrow, Which seemeth strange to me;
But I will trust His judgement, And work on faithfully;
Tis He who fills the shuttle, And He knows what is best,
So, I shall weave an earnest, Leaving to Him the rest.
Not till the loom is silent and the shuttle cease to fly
Shall God unroll a canvas and explain the reasons why –
The dark threads are as needed in the weaver’s skillful hands
As the threads of gold and silver in the pattern he has planned.

The Obituary

Judith Flora (Nunn) Bryant-Bey was born on November 28, 1951 in Toledo, Ohio. She departed this life on Tuesday, February 9, 2021 at the age of 69 at the Heatherdowns Rehabilitation Center with her daughter holding her hand. Judith, affectionately called Judy by family and friends was born to Cleo R. (Lee) Wynn and Holcie Lee Scott.

She was preceded in death by both parents, step-mother Alma Jean Scott, step-father, Joe Louis Wynn, siblings Jose M. Scott Sr, Raymond Scott, Robert D. Michaels, Angela Scott, and Jose Rodney Scott Sr.

She attended Libbey High School in her early adult life and was employed by various hospitals as a nurse's aide and dietary assistant. Judy volunteered at the Harvey Savage Kitchen for the Poor and enjoyed working with the employees and serving meals. She loved cooking soul food and you could always find her with a pot of greens, beans, potatoes, and neck bones boiling on her stove, and fried chicken wings.

"Auntie Judy" was a favorite among many nieces and nephews. The challenges of life over the last 4½ years restricted her to live in an assisted living environment. We always prayed and made the best of it.

She leaves to cherish her memory, loving son; David M. Nunn, daughters; Darlene M. Nunn, Kiley L. I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.
