

My Sweet Dylan

By Jerrie Conner

My Sweet Dylan.

Where do I begin?

You came in this world so beautiful,

You and your twin.

Your big bright eyes, I'll never forget.

Everything about you was so perfect.

Months later, we learned all about your special needs.

I feel so blessed that God had trust in me

Our strong little hero, it's so hard to let go.

A pain like this, I don't want anyone to know.

You're so loved by everyone who crossed your path.

We all still hear your cute, unforgettable laugh.

There were times of darkness and clouds of gloom.

But when you smiled it lit up every room.

You brought us happiness, so many positive things.

Now it's time for you to spread your Angel Wings.

Dylan I was told you were going to live to seven.

But it took sixteen years before you made it into heaven.

Mommy loves you and I want to Thank God.

For allowing my son Dylan James Harris to defeat all odds.

Dylan James Harris

Dylan James Harris was born in Toledo, Ohio to Aaron Harris and Jerrie Conner on June 12, 2003. He entered this world with his twin sister Dylane.

As an infant, Dylan was diagnosed with microcephaly, tracheomalacia, epilepsy, and cerebral palsy. Despite his health conditions, Dylan was full of life. He expressed himself through his eyes. His joyful spirit was contagious and his smile brought happiness to everyone's heart.

Dylan was a loving son, grandson, brother, uncle, nephew, and cousin. He was also a junior at Reynolds School where he did arts and crafts and other forms of therapy.

Dylan was our superhero. Courage and strength were his superpowers. In 2012, Make-A-Wish America gifted Dylan a family vacation to Disney World. In 2015, he was honored by the Cerebral Palsy Family Network as "Hero of the Day". He was deeply loved and brought immense joy to everyone who knew him.

Dylan was preceded in death by his grandfather Martin Dean Conner and grandmother Bessie Harris. He leaves to cherish his memory parents, Aaron Harris and Jerrie Conner, grandparents, Elaine and Howard Harthorne, siblings Tamora Harris, Jared Conner, Dylane Harris, Erin Harris, Quinton Harris, and Alayna Harris, niece Noe'l Weaver-Harris, special aunt and godmother, Carolyn Horn, and a host of loving aunts, uncles, and cousins.
